To whom it may concern:

The Clothesline is a laundromat that offers customers the option of using their credit cards to get coins for the washers and dryers. Business has increased since offering this service through Frontline Processing in April 2010.

Frontlines wasn't necessarily the cheapest...but was competitive. What made the difference for us was their customer service. Whenever I have a problem, which is rare, they are right on it! They excel in this department!! Plus, we like dealing with a local company!

I love getting calls from solicitors enticing me with lower rates...I nicely let them know they are wasting their time because I am very satisfied with the company I deal with!

Keep up the good work Frontline Processing!

Sincerely,
